

SAN TAN CANINE TRAINING NEWSLETTER

NATHAN BRAATEN • 602.320.2890 • By Appointment

PET INSURANCE

Pet insurance can be a life saver for your beloved family pets. In fact, pet insurance can add significant protection for your pet and your finances alike. However, not all pet insurance providers are the same. Coverages range from long lists of tailored options to one-stop plans; from accidents-only to routine health exams. TopConsumerReviews.com reviews and ranks the best pet insurance providers available today.

Thanks to modern medicine, veterinarians can perform once unheard-of operations and treatments to suffering dogs and cats, significantly increasing both their life expectancy and their owner's happiness. However, these latest procedures can come with an expensive price tag.

Tests, examinations, and procedures can cost hundreds to thousands of dollars. Even a routine examination with vaccinations and preventative tests can cost from $200 to $400 or more. If that hasn't busted your budget, you can only imagine the reality of chemotherapy and hip replacement for a pet in bad shape.

Pet Insurance allows a caring master to continue to enjoy their pet for years to come without facing the financial burden and difficult decision between helping their loved one, or putting it to sleep as a result of cost. A number of pet insurance companies exist today that can greatly relieve the burden of life saving procedures and care. However, these companies all vary in services covered, cost, customer service, and claim reimbursement.

Before selecting a pet insurance provider you should consider the following:

- Coverage. What procedures and services does the plan cover? Is their flexibility in selecting the plan that meets your needs? What services are excluded?
- Customer Service. Will someone answer the phone if you call in an emergency? When is the company open for assistance?
- Insurance Premiums. How much will your premium be for the pet insurance that best meets your needs?

We hope you find this information helpful in selecting the right pet insurance provider for you and your pet!

		EMBRACE Embrace leads the show in pet insurance providers . This truly customizable pet insurance can meet everyone's needs. The website is easy to maneuver and full of great information. Claims are paid quickly and with no hassle - Embrace is an excellent choice .
		TRUPANION Trupanion, offered through PetCo Pet Store, provides solid pet insurance with no gimmicks. This straightforward pet insurance provider covers 90% of the veterinarian's bill and does not increase premiums as your pet ages. Trupanion also allows you to select the amount of deductible you'd like associated with your plan.
		VETERINARY PET INSURANCE (VPI) Veterinary Pet Insurance (VPI) has been in business for over 25 years. VPI allows for a lot flexibility in the coverage your seeking but we found some concerns with the claim process.

		PET ASSURE This is a program that is best for an older pet or one with a pre-existing condition that would not be covered under the other plans. It is less expensive but your overall savings would be less should your pet need a major operation that was covered by one of the other plans.
		PETS BEST Pets Best pet insurance provides a mediocre website and a long list of excluded coverage. We found that most of the expensive services were not covered, which begs the question, why have pet insurance in the first place?
		QUICK CARE PET INSURANCE This program offers a variety of choice so that you can pick the price and the coverage that works best for you and your pet. However, Quick Care is new to the market, with an unproven track record of reliability. We also couldn't find a lot of upfront information on what is excluded by Quick Care.

How common is pet insurance, and what does it typically cover?

Whether you like it or not, disasters can happen and your precious pet can become ill. So to be sure that you can properly care for your pet in the event of an emergency, you may want to consider purchasing pet insurance. Just like human medical insurance, there are a range of coverage options available. Most policies cover routine preventative care as well as unexpected injuries and illness. However, you will likely encounter deductibles and co-pays, and pre-existing or hereditary conditions may not be covered.

The cost of pet insurance can range from one to six thousand dollars over the lifetime of your pet, so do your homework before purchasing a policy.

To discover how great PurinaCare Pet Health Insurance coverage is, compare them to the competitors. For more information, visit purinacare.com for a comparison chart.

Resource:
www.topconsumerreviews.com
www.purinacare.com